Holy Days of Obligation are days where the church requires us to attend mass. The current Holy Days of Obligation are:

- All Sundays of the year;
- The Nativity of the Lord (25 December);
- The Epiphany of the Lord (transferred this year to 7 January);
- The Ascension of the Lord (Thursday of the 6th Week of Easter);
- The Body and Blood of Christ (Corpus Christi) (currently transferred to the Sunday after the Most Holy Trinity);
- The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary (15 August);
- St Peter and St Paul, Apostles (29 June); and
- All Saints (1 November).

Three causes exempt an individual from the obligation:

- Necessity (e.g. sickness, being housebound);
- Duty (e.g. soldiers, doctors, nurses, parents looking after young children); or
- Charity (e.g. taking care of the sick, responding to the immediate needs of a neighbour).

When a solemnity falls on a day other than Sunday, the mass is generally moved to 7pm and is sung rather than said. If the solemnity falls on a Saturday, the mass is generally moved to 12noon and is sung rather than said.

Two days of fasting take place in the course of the church's year, Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. On these days, Christians from the age of 18 to 58 should eat just 1 regular meal and up to 2 smaller meals that do not equal the regular meal in size. They must also not snack or eat meat. Those outside the age limits, and those whose state in life includes pregnant women, manual labourers, and those who are ill, are not required to fast or abstain, but are encouraged to do so or take up some other form of penitence or act of charity. In addition, Christians practise abstinence every Friday, and so should not eat meat on these days.
